

Joshua J. McHamm

President - NuSurge Electric

BIO

Joshua McHamm graduated from Shaker Heights High School in 1996 after completing a mix of high honors and college preparatory requirements. He lettered in football and basketball, was a founding member of the Shaker Heights High School Chess Team, The Shaker Heights High School Poetry Club and received the 1996 D.E.C.A. Award of Excellence in Economics. Mr. McHamm went on to study Business Administration at the University of Cincinnati and English at Kent State University.

His job experience includes working as a business technical writer for Proctor and Gamble where he was responsible for developing cover jackets for new product lines and product breadths as well as developing and organizing marketing and research materials for the R&D department. Mr. McHamm was then first introduced into the non-profit world when he was recruited to become a project director for the thirteen Ohio Valley Goodwill's where he was responsible for the daily operations and the financial management of multiple service centers in Cincinnati, Ohio and surrounding areas.

Mr. McHamm came on board with A Cultural Exchange as the Director of Operations in 2004 and helps to facilitate smooth, integrated operations and human resource management. From 2004 to 2009 he was instrumental in helping to raise more than $1,000,000 in grant and scholarship revenue. His business acumen and intellect served A Cultural Exchange well in developing license agreement, contractual documents and internal control procedures that have and continue to strengthen A Cultural Exchange organizational capacity. In 2010 he launched NuSurge Electric. As the founder and President, his company has quickly positioned itself as a major player in the construction industry. He currently serves on the boards of the Urban League, committee for the African American Cultural Gardens, and Co-Author of the Greater Cleveland Community Benefits Agreement.

His commitment to the Cleveland community is one of dedication, with a special emphasis on helping Cleveland's youth. He has worked as a mentor, a youth basketball league-winning championships during a four year tenure. He is a dedicated family man and a supportive parishioner at Olivet Institutional Baptist Church.
